

The Washington Heritage Museums

*Mary Washington House
pre-1772*

1200 Charles Street

Mary Ball Washington spent the last seventeen years of her life in this comfortable home, bought for her by her son, George Washington.

Rising Sun Tavern

c. 1760

1304 Caroline Street

Built by Charles Washington around 1760 as his home, this building was later operated as a tavern in the bustling port town of Fredericksburg.

Hugh Mercer Apothecary Shop

c. 1772

1020 Caroline Street

An 18th century building restored as the Hugh Mercer Apothecary Shop provides a vivid living history interpretation of colonial medical practices.

St. James' House

c. 1772

1300 Charles Street

This small, gambrel-roofed house is a fine example of an 18th century gentleman's house. It contains a collection of period furnishings including silver, glass, and porcelain.

Your Special Event at Washington Heritage Museums

Nestled in the heart of historic Fredericksburg, the properties of Washington Heritage Museums provide a beautiful city oasis for your outdoor or small indoor event. With four to choose from, one is certain to be just the right setting for your event. Each location can accommodate up to 50 guests, but offers smaller areas for more intimate gatherings. Abbreviated tours of the museum are included at no additional charge.

For events held at the Mary Washington House, you may wish for us to have the Museum Shop open for your guests. Please let us know, and we'll make every effort to have it available.

The Mary Washington House
1200 Charles Street

The Mary Washington House offers a formal garden with a lawn, two porches, and interior spaces in the event of inclement weather. Guests may stroll the brick walkways lining the gardens.

The lawn offers sufficient room for a tent and generous space for your outdoor gathering. The plantings and fences make the space a quiet and comfortable setting in the heart of Fredericksburg.

Hugh Mercer Apothecary Shop
1020 Caroline Street

At the corner of Amelia and Caroline Streets, this property is in the heart of downtown and just around the corner from restaurants and businesses.

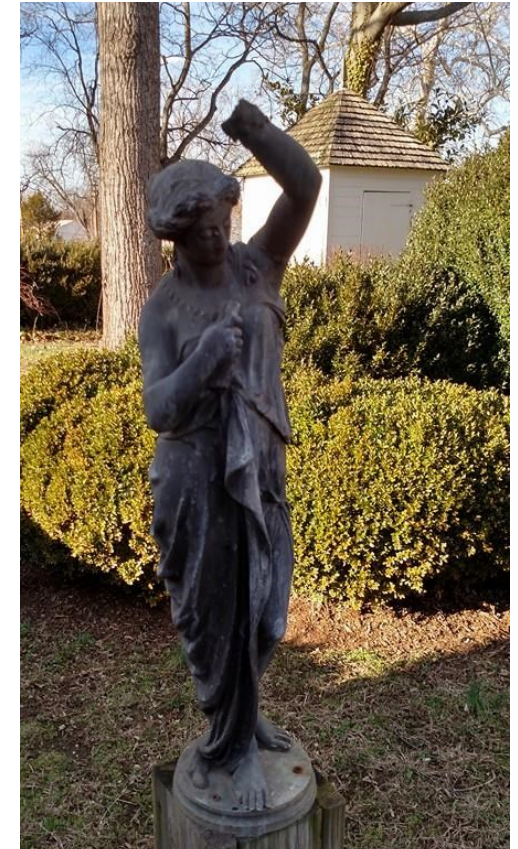

Its convenient location and beautiful garden make the Apothecary Shop an excellent location for cocktail gatherings and small business events.

The Rising Sun Tavern
1304 Caroline Street

The Rising Sun Tavern offers a large open lawn tucked quietly behind the building and a spacious front porch overlooking Caroline Street.

A beautiful grape arbor provides shade during warm weather, and a brick courtyard serves as a small dance area.

St. James' House
1300 Charles Street

Unique among downtown sites, St. James' House gardens provide small outdoor "rooms" for your special event.

Tucked behind an 18th century gentleman's cottage with a lovely gambrel roof, the gardens are divided into smaller areas with boxwood and offer a distinctive setting for any gathering.
